Proceeding of the Meeting

An urgent meeting of the RGNUL COVID-19 Grievance Redressal Committee was called on 28th November 2020 in continuation of the meeting held on 24th November 2020 to discuss representation of a student regarding opening up of hostels in view of the decision of the Government of Punjab to open all higher education institutions from 16th November 2020.

Members of the Committee discussed the matter threadbare. Members pointed out that in view of the academic calendar circulated by the University, there are only a few classes remaining the present semester and almost all teachers in the process of winding up syllabus. It was pointed that online open book examination are going on for intermediate classes and the same shall continue till 04th December 2020 and thereafter online Viva-Voce of students of all classes except 01st year of UG course and PG course shall commence from 19th December 2020 and shall continue upto 24th December 2020 followed by end term examinations. After the completion of end term examinations, students are to go for internship break till 06th February 2021. Keeping in view the above academic calendar, members pointed out that only a few classes are left in the ongoing semester for intermediate batches except first year.

Members also pointed out that there is surge in covid cases especially in Delhi and students have to come from all parts of the country through various modes of transport. It was further discussed that the cold weather has already begun and as per experts the weather is conducive for further surge in covid cases. Under such circumstances and keeping in mind that as per RGNUL Act, University is 100% residential university, it would be difficult to follow SOP issued by UGC as hostels have common washrooms, common mess etc.
